

moment magazine

THE HIGHER LEARNING GUIDE

the HIGHER LEARNING guideMOMENT MAGAZINE

A SPECIAL ADVERTISING SECTION

THE AMERICAN SEMINARY FOR CONTEMPORARY JUDAISM
The American Seminary for Contemporary Judaism is a traditional seminary, which offers courses of study leading to a number of certificates and diplomas for work in various aspects of the American Jewish community, including training as a cantor, rabbi, synagogue executive director, educator, educational director and youth activities director. Our goals are to assist the students in developing the necessary academic and professional skills to help them become Jewish leaders. The American Seminary for Contemporary Judaism and its "individual" academies are incorporated as a Jewish seminary and yeshiva by the state of New York "to teach and promulgate the principles of Judaism," and "to provide Jewish individuals in all courses of study with a systematic course of study and examinations leading to their confirmation as Jewish professionals in the American and world Jewish communities." Online study is also available through The American Seminary for Contemporary Judaism's Distance Learning Program.
Robert E. Cohen, Exec. Director
185 Gate Summit Ave., Baldwin, NY 11510
516-223-0975; Web Site: theasj.org; See ad on page 62

NATIONAL JEWISH RETREAT
Now entering its fourth year, the National with the best in Jewish learning and living and is fast becoming an annual summer tradition. The National Jewish Retreat is in a class of its own, providing rejuvenation of mind, heart, and spirit, and a powerful synthesis of Jewish learning and community. Relax with family and meet new friends as you encounter over twenty teachers of international renown. Watch and discuss films of Jewish interest, dance to Jewish music, bake Challah, debate a page of Talmud, or explore the secrets of Kabbalah. The retreat also features an exciting program for children. This year's retreat will be held at the luxurious Hyatt Regency in Old Greenwich, Connecticut from August 11-16, 2009.
For more information or to register, please call 1-877-382-7302 x7 (973-8732) or visit www.njretreat.com. See ad on page 65

AMERICAN JEWISH UNIVERSITY LIEBER SCHOOL OF GRADUATE STUDIES
The MBA in Nonprofit Management program provides students with a thorough grounding in the theories and practice of business management, emphasizing the specific needs of nonprofit organizations. This fully accredited, nonsectarian program is designed for those new to the field, those wishing to advance their careers, and professionals retooling for career changes. Each student completes a combination of core classes and electives, as well as an internship and a thesis or capstone culminating project. Our graduates are solidly grounded in leadership and managerial skills with business acumen in marketing, fundraising, strategic planning and accounting necessary for their organizations to thrive.
Edward Grice, MBA, Assistant Dean, MBA Nonprofit Management Program; 15600 Mulholland Drive, Los Angeles, CA 90077; 310-440-2266; Fax: 310-471-5873; E-Mail: egrice@ajyu.edu; www.ajyu.edu. Los Angeles, CA

GRATZ COLLEGE
Gratz College, a non-denominational academic institution in suburban Philadelphia, is a vibrant center for Jewish studies and professional education. Gratz College's campus-based and online programs confer graduate and undergraduate degrees and certificates in various disciplines, including Jewish studies, Jewish education, Jewish music, Holocaust studies, Jewish early childhood, Jewish communal service and Jewish non-profit management. A part-time doctoral program in Jewish Education is offered at its suburban Philadelphia campus with some courses offered online. In addition to the certificate programs, Gratz College's online program features several degrees that can be earned completely online: a BA in Jewish studies, a MA in Jewish studies, and a MA in Jewish Education. The Leadership certificate in Jewish Early Childhood Education is primarily online, with week-long summer courses on campus available. It is an attractive option for those at a distance who would like to combine online learning with an on-campus experience. The Jewish Community High School of Gratz College, one of the largest Jewish community high schools in the United States, recently launched the Kenneth I. Rothbarb Distance Learning program for Teens. Jewish high school students in English-speaking countries around the globe have access to the highest quality Jewish education. Juniors and seniors may qualify for a unique opportunity to take courses for college credit.
www.gratzcollege.edu 7605 Old York Road, Malvern Park, PA 19370 300-475-4635 x 148 (College) 300-475-4635 x 113 (High School) admissions@gratz.edu online@gratz.edu kbarbarb@gratz.edu Dr. Jonathan Kirschbaum, President; See ad on page 68

AMERICAN JEWISH UNIVERSITY FINGERHUT SCHOOL OF EDUCATION
The Fingerhut School offers a two-year M.A.Ed. program with a focus on pedagogy, curriculum, educational administration, Jewish texts, and Hebrew literacy. Fingerhut's superb training prepares students for rewarding careers as teachers, principals, directors, and community educators. Graduates are uniquely qualified to impart what it means to live and learn as a Jew, and are thriving in every sector of Jewish education. An M.A.Ed. can be earned full or part time through either the Daytime Students Program, the Working Professionals Program, or in one of three dual-degree programs. There is also a concentration in Experiential Education designed for educators looking to bridge the gap between formal and informal settings.
Talia Perelman; 15600 Mulholland Drive, Los Angeles, CA 90077; 310-440-1536; tperelman@ajyu.edu; www.ajyu.edu. Los Angeles, CA

THE ROHR JEWISH LEARNING INSTITUTE
The Rohr Jewish Learning Institute (JLI) is the pre-eminent provider of adult Jewish education, with centers in over 300 cities worldwide. Over 100,000 students have attended our programs. JLI's innovative presentation of traditional Judaism is both intellectually rigorous and highly accessible, inviting students to find contemporary relevance in classic Jewish texts. Our courses are appropriate for newcomers to Jewish learning as well as those who have studied before, and our dynamic approach encourages active questioning and open discussion. JLI's offers three six-week courses a year on a range of subjects including Torah, Talmud, Jewish History, Jewish Philosophy, and Kabbalah. JLI follows a powerful path of discovery and depth, touching the souls of its learners with feelings of hope, purpose, and meaning, and leading them toward fresh thinking about the world. The Rohr JLI is the adult education arm of the Chabad Lubavitch movement.
For more information, to register, or to find your local JLI affiliate center, please visit www.jli.com or call 1.888.338.3383. See ad on page 63

AMERICAN JEWISH UNIVERSITY COLLEGE OF ARTS & SCIENCES
AJU is a fully accredited university with a beautiful campus located in an upscale area of Los Angeles. Students benefit from a student-faculty ratio of seven to one which allows a give-and-take flow between students and world-renowned teachers, and opportunities to initiate new clubs and programs. Also available are personalized internship/mentor programs with partners such as Cedars Sinai Medical Center and Dreamworks. Upon graduation, ninety-five percent of students

They have the questions

When looking for Jewish undergraduate, graduate, post graduate and continued learning programs, Jews turn to Moment Magazine.

We have the answers

Several times a year Moment provides an unparalleled forum for the institutions that are shaping the future leaders of the Jewish community. No other resource guide rivals the Guide to Higher Learning in prestige and visibility.

Moment readers are your students

We reach more than 100,000 well-placed readers who are interested in participating in your programs and supporting your initiatives. They highly value Jewish education and long to be immersed in Jewish learning communities... your communities!

In print and online

For $450, you can be listed in the Giving Guide and our online component. If you place an ad that is 1/3 of a page or larger, we will include your listing at no cost. Sign on for a year (six big issues), or place a full page ad, and we will give you up to 200 one-year gift subscriptions to share with your alumni, board and donors.

Please Contact

Rebecca Newman Leavey
202.257.0064
rleavey@momentmag.com

Moment Magazine works hard to ensure that the non-profits keeping our Jewish community vibrant can be featured in our magazine. Moment receives grants that make it possible to offer very affordable rates to our non-profit partners, and we work together to customize plans to your needs and budgets. We also help non-profits create and design ads for maximum effectiveness.